Gen. Van Is Dead Of Cancer

Former Chief Of Air Force Spent 30 Years
In Uniform Of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, the handsome, youthful-looking flying general who led the Air Force through some of its most trying postwar days, died of cancer Friday after a lingering illness.

He was 55, and had spent 30 years in uniform. The last five were as Air Force chief of staff. (Gen. Vandenberg will be buried Monday in Arlington National Cemetery after services at the Washington Cathedral. The cathedral services will be conducted by the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of the cathedral, and Chaplain Frank E. Pulley of the United States Military Academy.)

President Eisenhower said the nation will hold Vandenberg "in grateful remembrance" as a devoted and able military leader. The President's tribute added: "Gallant commander, a decade ago, our tactical Air Force in northwest Europe; unswerving advocate of the precepts and cause of the United States Air Force; a forceful fighter for a strong national defense—Gen. Vandenberg was a courageous and tireless leader. He has left a lasting imprint on the service he loved so well and on the nation he served with all his strength and skill."

"News of his untimely death brings sorrow to his host of civilian and military friends, among whom I was privileged to be numbered."

Vandenberg, who fought quietly and earnestly for his conviction that this country's survival depends on a strong and far-reaching air force, was stricken with his final illness a few months after he retired with full honors last June.

Colorado's Johnson Not To Run

Sen. Edwin Johnson, Colorado Democrat, holds up the first page of a statement he read at a news conference in Washington announcing that he will retire from the Senate next Jan. 3 at the end of his present term. The page opens with the statement: "I will not be a candidate again for the United States Senate. This decision has been reached prayerfully and after long meditation. But it is now final and irrevocable. A longtime ago Senator Alva B. Adams told me that retirement is man's most difficult decision." (AP Wirephoto)

Sen. Johnson, Colorado Democrat, Will Retire

Western League Ball President
Completing 18th Year In Senate

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Johnson, who is completing his 18th year in the Senate, said his decision is "final and irrevocable."

He said that Mrs. Johnson "had developed a complex about living longer in Washington so retirement is a must."

The senator said that Mrs. Johnson insists that they return to Colorado to live.

Good Health

Johnson, who is 70, said that in spite of "my years my health is good and no one could possibly enjoy being a senator more than I."

He said there is no position, private or public, which compares with that of a senator in its challenge and appeal.

He added that "contrary to reports, I am not quitting the Senate for baseball or any other activity."

Johnson is president of the Western Baseball League.

No Recommendation

Asked if he would run for the gubernatorial post, Johnson replied: "The chances are very dim. I cross bridges one at a time. I don't think there will be a time to cross that one."

Johnson said he is making no recommendations as to his successor and he added, "I never take part in primary elections."

But he said that if his party wants his aid in the general election, he will be glad to participate and "whoop it up for some good Democrat."

In the meantime, he said, his only plan is "to get caught up on some little things—golf, fishing, and browsing around the hills of Colorado."

The senator, a member of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, is an amateur geologist and has his own geiger counter.

U.S. Justice Unit To Act On Peress

WASHINGTON —The Army turned over to the Justice Department for possible action the case of former Maj. Irving Peress, New York dentist who figured in the row between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Army officials.

The announcement of this action was made, without clarification, by Asst. Secretary of Defense Fred Seaton and the Pentagon's general counsel, H. Struve Hensel at a news conference.

The Army was not represented at the hastily called session but Seaton said the Army took the initiative in referring the case to the Justice Department. Seaton read the following statement:

"Following the completion of a thorough investigation, the Department of the Army has referred the matter of former Maj. Irving Peress to the Department of Justice for appropriate action."

Seaton and Hensel, under questioning by reporters, would say only that the action was taken as a result of investigations conducted by the Army and a special task force at the Pentagon appointed by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

The Peress case broke into the open early this year when McCarthy halted the dentist before the Senate Investigations Subcommittee at a closed-door session in New York.

Jeary Expects Report On Auditorium Building Possibilities By Saturday

Mayor Clark Jeary expects to have a report Saturday on the possibilities of erecting the city auditorium as originally planned with the funds available.

Several contractors have been requested by Jeary to suggest ways of cutting corners on the proposed building to bring it within reach of funds on hand. The $2,500,000 now in the auditorium fund was approximately $500,000 short more than a year ago.

Jeary, however, is hopeful that building costs have declined to the point where, with the cutting of some extras from the building, the auditorium would be within reach. The contractors are expected to report informally Saturday.

Meanwhile, Jeary is awaiting the decision of interveners in the recent Supreme Court auditorium case as to whether a motion for a re-hearing of the case will be filed.

If the interveners agree, said Jeary, the Supreme Court will be asked to send down its mandamus immediately for issuance by the District Court. The high court ordered the city to proceed with construction of an auditorium at 15th and N and forbid the holding of another election in regards to the structure.

Attorney for the interveners, H. B. Muffy, said he had not yet fully studied the Supreme Court ruling and would be guided by the wishes of those he represents. Charles Sutherland, one of the prime movers among the interveners, has stated he was not in favor of any more litigation on the matter.

Long Rail Fight Ends

Mediators: CB&Q
Dispute Is Settled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Mediation Board said Friday night a long-standing labor dispute on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad has been settled.

Leverett Edwards, a member of the board, said the "entire controversy has been settled and all strike action cancelled and annulled."

The dispute involved alleged violations of rules and agreements. The board said on Tuesday that nearly 100 pending grievances had been settled in prior mediation sessions.

The mediation board had been in session for two days with carrier members and representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Negotiations previously had been held in Chicago.

The mediation board said settlement terms were agreed to by A. F. Kummer, assistant grand chief of the engineers and C. H. Atkins, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on Burlington property.

Carrier representatives were J. E. Wolfe, assistant to vice president of the Burlington Railroad and Carl Maier, an assistant to Wolfe.

Ben Gold Convicted

'Union Head Falsely
Denied He Was Red'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russian-born Ben Gold, president of the Fur and Leather Workers Union, was convicted of falsely denying he was a Communist Party member and a supporter of its policies.

Gold, 55, heard the verdict of a Federal Court jury with no show of emotion.

U. S. District Judge Charles F. McLaughlin allowed Gold to remain at liberty under $10,000 bail pending sentencing. No date was set for sentencing, but defense attorneys were given until April 12 to file various legal motions, including one asking for a new trial.

"We are going to appeal all the way up if our motions are denied," former Rep. Vito Marcantonio (Alp-N.Y.), defense counsel, said.

The law under which Gold was convicted provides a penalty up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine for making a false statement to a governmental agency. Gold was found guilty by the jury of making two false statements in a Taft-Hartley law non-Communist oath filed with the National Labor Relations Board Aug. 30, 1950. The statements: He was not a member of the Communist Party and didn't support any organization which taught and advocated the overthrow of the U. S. government by force and violence.

Local Effect Unknown

J. C. Grisinger, superintendent of the Burlington in Lincoln, said Friday night that he had heard nothing regarding the settlement. He did not know what effect it might have locally.

Penny Edwards, Actress, Turns To 'Work Of Lord'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Penny Edwards, once one of the movies' top pin-up queens, has turned her heart toward "the work of the Lord."

"I guess I posed for every kind of cheesecake there is," the 25-year-old actress said. "But now my heart has been changed."

The long-limbed dancer—she says she was in Ziegfeld Follies at 12—explained that the urge for religion struck here while sitting in a room.

"Suddenly," she said, "the room seemed to light up I felt myself bursting with love and happiness. At that moment I wanted to have a baby. Then two weeks later, I found out I was pregnant."

She said she then turned to serious reading of the Bible.

"The truths I learned about in the Scriptures were just the opposite of the life I was living in show business. Then I started praying for the right church to join. I found that all churches ignore the Fourth Commandment about keeping holy the Sabbath except the Seventh Day Adventists. That's why I decided to join that one."

She expects to be baptized in that faith along with her husband, TV Casting Director Ralph Winters.

GOP Lawyer J. M. Welch To Represent Army In Dispute With McCarthy

Controversy Is Brewing Over Sears Appointment As Counsel

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Defense Department announced Friday night the appointment of Joseph M. Welch, a Republican lawyer from Boston, to represent the Army in a Senate investigation of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's dispute with the service.

Welch told newsmen he is accepting the post "as a public service" and will work without compensation for either time or expense.

He said he will bring with him as assistants Frederick Fisher and James D. St. Clair, junior members of Hale and Dorr, his Boston law firm. He said they too will work without pay.

The Army announced the appointment while a controversy brewed around Samuel P. Sears, another Boston Republican, who was named Tuesday as impartial chief counsel for McCarthy's Investigations Subcommittee, which will conduct the inquiry.

Declines Comment
Some members of the unit said they plan to ask Sears Monday to explain published reports that he made pro-McCarthy statements in 1952.

At a news conference where the Pentagon appointment was announced, Welch declined to tell newsmen whether he is for or against McCarthy.

Welch commented: "I want to adduce the facts, the pertinent facts. Whether they help or hurt, I certainly intend to produce them."

The investigation centers around Army charges that McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn, his chief counsel, tried to pressure the Army into giving preferential treatment to Pvt. G. David Schine, a drafted aid, and McCarthy's charge that Army leaders tried to "blackmail" him out of investigating the service.

Both sides have denied the charges.

Vicious Smear
Meanwhile acting chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee charged that "vicious smears and attacks" are being leveled at Sears by people seeking to discredit him even before he takes over the post.

Mundt referred to published reports that Sears in 1952 praised McCarthy, who heads the subcommittee, for doing "a great job" in getting Reds out of the federal government and said he was willing to help raise money for the Wisconsin Republican's re-election campaign.

Sears told a news conference Thursday that he had never taken a stand in "public or private" on "McCarthy or McCarthyism" and members of the subcommittee said he had given them similar assurances before they selected him.

"Further Developments"
Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), senior subcommittee Democrat, told newsmen he is "awaiting further and fuller developments."

He added: "Mr. Sears was employed on his representations, that there confirmed by him in his statement to radio and the press, that he had taken no position regarding McCarthy or McCarthyism.

"As to whether these things now appearing will establish or refute that representation, I am not yet prepared to say."

One of McCarthy's staunchest Senate foes, meanwhile came to the defense of Sears.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), described him as "down the middle" and revealed that he was among the senators who recommended the Bostonian for the chief counsel's post.

Answers to your questions about the steel work on the new telephone building.

What is the purpose of the steel tower on the new telephone building?

This will support a micro-wave relay antenna through which network and other television programs will be transmitted to and from Lincoln.

The antenna will look like a powder and will be 60 feet in diameter. It is made of spun aluminum and will be mounted on the tower 210 feet above the ground.

Connection with the transcontinental television network will be made at Omaha. Programs will be sent from there by micro-wave relay to an antenna tower at Gretna and from there to the antenna on the telephone building at Lincoln. These TV programs will then be sent by underground optical cable to the television station at Lincoln. From there they will be telecast to your home.

At present, network TV programs are received at the television station through a temporary micro-wave relay connection from Omaha.

Are you adding more stories to the building now?

No. However, the structural steel built to support the antenna tower is so designed that it can become part of the framework for the floors to be added later.

When will you move your offices to the 15th and M Streets building?

This is in the long-range planning. At some future date we will add five stories to the building at 15th and M Streets with a three-story addition to the east.

Until then, the building at 14th and M will continue to be occupied by the general offices and the public office and the 15th and M building will be used for local calling equipment and transmitting facilities.

Running True To Type

Selection of special counsel to handle the long-heralded Senate inquiry into the row between Sen. Joe McCarthy and top Army officials runs true to form.

Announcement has been made that Samuel P. Sears, a Boston Republican, would fill the role of special counsel for the Senate subcommittee headed by McCarthy who stepped aside temporarily to permit Sen. Mundt to take over.

Beyond the information given in the news dispatches, we know nothing about Mr. Sears. He volunteered his services as special counsel of the Massachusetts Bar Association. He is a graduate of Harvard University and of its Law School. He has been critical of his alma mater on the broad Communist issue. But more revealing, Boston newspapers, combing their files, discovered that in 1952 Sears had expressed himself on McCarthyism by praising the Wisconsin senator as having done a great job. It is this latter role which makes the choice of Sears incredible.

If the Senate subcommittee expects the public to have any confidence in the investigation upon which it is about to embark, it will lose no time in retracting its steps. Mr. Sears could be thoroughly judicial and objective in serving as special counsel, and yet the disclosures of his earlier position with respect to McCarthy could not other than discredit his objectivity. Anyone who has gone out on the limb as Sears apparently has will find it extremely difficult to give the investigation the public confidence it deserves.

'Mostest' For The Money

Mayor Clark Jeary of Lincoln and his Council colleagues will meet with architects and builders to discuss steps leading to the construction of a new auditorium, now that the Supreme Court has spoken finally upon the cases necessitating delay.

So far as the public is concerned, it has but one interest.

And that is to get the most for its money. In the years of controversy over the auditorium site, with the initial delay in construction arising as a result of the war emergency, building costs became much greater than when the original studies were completed and plans prepared. Even with a second generous bond issue augmenting the revenues originally made available for an auditorium and an accompanying arena, there was not money enough left to complete the job. Some of the fine edge of enthusiasm and interest in the auditorium program has been lost as a result of the long delay.

It is possible that on the basis of recent experience with construction activities in Lincoln, some of the features of the original plans dropped one by one while costs were soaring can be restored. That is up to the Council for decision. It also is possible that interest in some features of the original plans no longer exists but if that is the case, we trust the Council will not mark time again in a fruitless effort to find out the public's desires. Whatever is done or is not done will not please everybody.

The community has waited long enough for an auditorium, infinitely longer than anyone anticipated when sentiment crystallized to build one. The time has come for action. After due consultation, the mayor and his colleagues will have to decide how much of the original program is to be completed and then embark upon construction without further delay.

Texas Does It Again

It can be said of Texas that it may not always be right, but it is always different.

This time the moguls of the Texas State League have instructed umpires to refrain henceforth from mixing in players' squabbles. "Let them fight it out," they have admonished.

The Texans have a feeling that law and order somehow corrodes the spirit of young ball players and they also believe that a brisk skirmish between the second baseman and the runner is better theater than the old reliable act of an umpire hauling a raging but defeated catcher out of the park by his heels.

Strictly from a dramatic point of view, it is hard to say. But at the present cost of ball players and the size of doctors' bills, it is safe to say that the club managements will soon be back to the sacrifice of the cheaper and more durable umpires.

Man Of Service

America grieves with the family of the late Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, for in his death it lost a good friend, an able soldier and the considerable benefits that could have come had his life not been cut short. For a general in peace time he died young. He was 55.

Besides a distinguished war record Vandenberg further served his country as its second chief of staff for the Air Force and it was he who laid the foundation for America's long arm of the air. He saw the sense of defense by long-range bombers and fashioned the Air Force accordingly.

Much to the credit of his probity and his patriotic dedication, his public record was singularly clear of stain or criticism.

Butter Gain—And A Loss

(The St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

This is the week when Secretary Benson's slash in butter support prices goes into effect, and butter prices in the supermarkets have already dropped in a gratifying way.

Gratifying, that is, to the consumers. The National Milk Producers Federation has estimated that Mr. Benson's directive will mean a $600,000,000 loss to dairy farmers, and there is nothing gratifying about that to anybody. For when dairy farmers lose $600,000,000, city people lose the jobs that would be required to supply the things $600,000,000 would buy.

Is there, then, no better way to move surplus milk and butter into consumption? The Lawson Milk Co., of Akron, O., says Yes.

For 15 years this unorthodox company has been distributing milk by the gallon through its own cash-and-carry dairy stores. People who will come and get milk by the gallon pay 52 cents, or 13 cents a quart—yet the farmers who supply the milk receive top market prices.

The Lawson milk story has been told in national magazines. It has been told in the Post-Dispatch. It is a story of the fabulous economies possible in improved distribution, and the significant part is what this new method of distribution has done to consumption. Akron people consume 536 pounds per capita of fluid milk and cream. The American people as a whole consume 352 pounds per capita.

If the American people consumed as much milk as the people of Akron consume, there would not be any surplus milk or butter. Has Secretary Benson thought about that?

A-Bomb Menace Brings Hope Of Outlawing It

WASHINGTON — Significant conversations have been taking place between Prime Minister Churchill, Harold Stassen and Lord Charwell, Britain's atom-bomb expert.

Among other things the British prime minister has urged high-level talks with the Russians to discuss the hydrogen threat, and also pleaded for closer cooperation between the United States and Great Britain in the entire field of hydrogen and atomic energy.

Churchill told Stassen, who is now in London, that Britain was working on its own hydrogen bomb, thereby duplicating the costly research already completed by American scientists.

It would be much better, he argued, if British money and British brains were used to make more progress rather than to keep up with the United States. However, he promised to make a statement supporting the American H-bomb test to show his good faith, and despite a growing hue and cry in England against the hydrogen tests in the Pacific. This he has now done.

Stassen made no definite commitments, beyond promising to take the entire problem up with President Eisenhower.

UNDERSEA BOMB

Most important problem the scientists have to worry about as far as the hydrogen bomb is concerned is the underwater test. This worry is true of the atom bomb as well as the hydrogen bomb and is the reason why the underwater atom-bomb test at Bikini was called off three years ago.

For the gruesome fact is that either an H-bomb or A-bomb exploded under water could create a tidal wave causing serious damage to cities along the Pacific coast. In addition it could contaminate fish for miles around and might set off a radioactive cloud formation which could be carried for miles inland, perhaps hitting much of the western United States.

All of which indicates that the repercussions of hydrogen warfare have just begun to be known. They are so ominous and so horrifying that the sooner the public understands what it is up against, the sooner constructive steps will be taken to protect ourselves from hydrogen warfare.

Scientists say, for instance, that if a hydrogen bomb were exploded 500 feet beneath the water in the mid-Pacific, a tidal wave would hit the shores of Japan, China and the United States. Furthermore, most cities along the Pacific Coast are so constructed that a tidal wave of only 12 inches above high tide would cause serious damage. Damage to Japanese cities would be greater than to most countries, but damage to downtown Los Angeles and even downtown San Francisco might be serious.

Even greater danger might come from contaminating the air streams. If the spray-burst from an underwater explosion went high enough it could form heavy radioactive clouds in the upper air stream.

This upper air stream in the Pacific invariably flows from west to east, because of the rotation of the earth on its axis. This was why the Japanese were able to float balloons 5,000 miles across the Pacific during the war, some of them even landing as far east as Detroit.

In Step With The Sower

The little bird that often sits on window sills and then flies up to the Sower to report on the hush-hush doings within the capitol walls paid another visit this week.

It being a "political year," the little bird was all a-twitter over what was happening among the politicians.

The Sower inquired what kind of team the Democrats could be expected to field and who would be GOP candidates for Congress in the First District. But those were not subjects on which the bird wanted to go out on a limb.

"March went out like a lion so far as the Republicans are concerned," the little bird misstated. "All is not harmony at the grass roots level."

Asked the cause of the lack of harmony, the little bird chirped, "McCarthyism, spelled with a capital M. Chairman Dave Martin and Sen. Hugh Butler may agree that he is the medicine the party in the state needs, but the rank and file are squirming at swallowing McCarthy for the primary keynote speaker."

The Sower scoffed at what the little bird said it had heard and in a huff it flew away to return soon with a paper in its bill. It was explained that the paper was salvaged from the waste basket in the office of a party stalwart.

The musings of a Republican state employee read as follows:

RISK OF PUT, SCHINE

(A Penman's Whistle)

"Oh, here's a Private David Schine!"

He never would have shown
Not for Senator McCarthy,
And his special counsel, Cohn,
Not Senator McCarthy,
Lacking talents of his own.
Found the very kind he wanted
In his special counsel, Cohn,
And Cohn, whose admiration
Of himself was most distinct,
Found complete cooperation
From his pal, the Private Schine.

"And on this jolly trip
Started out to beat the Dutch
To rid the world of Democrats."

If, therefore, the burst from an underwater explosion hit the upper air stream, scientists fear the entire western part of the United States might be subjected to radioactive rain.

This is just a small part of the hydrogen problem the American public now faces and has a right to know about.

H-BOMB FILM

Jim Hagerty, normally cool-headed press-relations aide to President Eisenhower, and one of the best in the business, let himself get stamped into premature release of the hydrogen-bomb film because this column had described the gist of the film in a column written several days in advance for release April 1. Some newspapermen also claimed that this column had breached an official release date for the April 7 showing of the film.

However, this writer has been around Washington a long time and doesn't find it necessary to gather news that way.

The content of the hydrogen-bomb film was known to me weeks ago, and as early as Jan. 10, 1954, I described it as follows:

"The Defense Department has blocked the Civil Defense Administration from showing movies of the world's first hydrogen explosion. The movie had been cleared by security officers for release to the public. It gave no secrets to the enemy. But at the last minute, the Defense Department stepped in.

"Admiral Radford of the Joint Chiefs of Staff argued that the movies would cause public hysteria, and he was backed by the Army and Navy, which privately fear the public may get the idea that land armies and battlefields are hopeless against the hydrogen bomb."

"However, the American people are grown up enough to face the facts. And since the motion picture has definitely been cleared for security, I will tell briefly what it shows.

"The hydrogen explosion was so tremendous that it had to be photographed all the way across the horizon. The picture shows a huge ball of fire shooting a column of smoke one hundred thousand feet in the air—100,000 feet—then blossoming into a massive mushroom one hundred miles wide.

"Later the cameras were brought up to the site of the explosion. And the island where the hydrogen device had been set off had disappeared completely off the map. All that was left was a hole in the coral foundation where the island once had been, and the hole was 170 feet deep—big enough to hold 17 Pentagon buildings.

"Yet this was only a baby hydrogen explosion. I mention this not with the idea of scaring the public, but because the public in my opinion doesn't want to be babied."

Rhee to Geneva—The American embassy reports President Syngman Rhee himself wants to head up the Korean delegation to the Geneva peace conference. Rhee has told his cabinet that if he is there in person he could dominate the conference, also make sure Secretary Dulles does not sell Korea out to the Communists. The American embassy is trying to discourage Rhee by pointing out that his firm leadership is needed in Korea.

And Communists and such
And Schine and Cohn they formed a team.

The team of Cohn & Schine,
And went to hunt for Communists
Beyond the River Rhine.
They sought them in the night clubs
And in the dark beer halls.
They questioned them by moonlight
In the market place and stalls.

"Ah, what a jolly life it was!
A life so free and hearty.
To frisk around from place to place
For Senator McCarthy!
While John Q. Public paid the bills
For caviar and wine.
It was a life of purple thrills
For Messrs. Cohn and Schine.
What fun to cuff a diplomat
And slap him in the face.
Or push a general around
And put him in his place.

"And then are Army bugle called
Across the salty main.
And Mr. Schine was summoned
To his homeland once again
To don an Army uniform—
Though tailor-made—beauty
And then report to GHQ
For military duty.
The chief of staff exclaimed aghast:
'We've sniped against Ditchley!
We've drafted into uniform
One corner of the Trinity.'

"But Private Schine was quite bemused.
'Your sin I do condone.
But remember I'm a friend of Joe's
And special counsel Cohn!
So make it easy for me, Sir.
And everything is fine.
But don't forget that Joe and Cohn
Are buddies pals of mine.
So Private Schine did rise and shine
And glory, how he shone.
As did both a friend of Joe's
And special counsel Cohn.

"Two captains pressed his uniform.
A colonel, it is said,
Stood respectfully beside him
While he breakfasted in bed
At night a four-star general
Would drive up in a jeep
And tell him bedtime stories
To lull him off to sleep.
So here's to Private David Schine.
And God, how he has shined.
As the friend of Joe McCarthy
And his Special Counsel Cohn!"

After reading the above, the Sower could not help but agree with the little bird. Maybe Dave and Hugh have sliced off a few votes into the hungry arms of the long-starving Nebraska Democrats.

BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

The Life Of Christ

CHAPTER XVIII

(Yesterday's installment of Bishop Sheen's "The Life of Christ" touched on the hard things which Jesus came to teach and they are as adaptable to our time as they were to His time. The adversary is to be conquered by a superior moral power, admonishes Christ, because such love prevents the infection of the wound of hate. Endure the bore who inflicts himself upon you. Offer gifts to the man who would steal from you. And if we do not find certain people lovable, Christ bids us put love into them.)

Let Him come into a world which tries to interpret man in terms of sex; which seasons the novel, movie and television show with an attack on the sanctity of marriage, which says that a marriage endures only until the glands tire; that one may unbind what God binds, and unseal what God seals, and say to them: "Blessed are the pure," and He will find Himself hanging naked on a Cross that defies their crazy affirmation that purity is abnormal, that the virgins are neurotics and that their carnality is right.

Let Him come into a world of Vishinsky and Molotovs, who believe with Lenin and Stalin that one must resort to every manner of chicanery and duplicity in order to conquer the world, who carry doves of peace with stomachs full of bombs, and say to them: "Blessed are the peace-makers," or "Blessed are they who eradicate sin that there may be peace," and He will find Himself surrounded by the comrades of the Vishinsky and Molotovs, as they make the greatest war this world of ours ever saw: the war against the Son of God; after His death, they will set a guard about His grave to prevent a Resurrection, something they would not expect even from a Lenin.

Let Him come into a world that believes personality should be manipulated, that our whole life should be geared to flattering and influencing people for the sake of utility and popularity, and say to

An Insinuation

Guide Rock, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Quoting from the March 28 story under the heading, "Life In Superior Moves At Even Pace"—"... the two or three youngsters who like to cause trouble go to Guide Rock (19 miles west)."

That apparent insinuation arouses resentment here at Guide Rock.

GERTRUDE LAMBERT CRARY

New Corn Crib

McCool Junction, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In answer to your editorial, "Storage on the Farm" of March 30, why do most of the corn cribs and granaries on the farms remain empty while the government can't find a home for some five million bushels of grain? Why do not the farmers build storage on their farms and earn the storage? In the state of Kansas, they do not tax grain on hand on assessment day but place a small tax on all grain produced regardless of when it is sold. In Nebraska it is financial suicide to have much grain on hand after March 10.

I have had blueprints of new corn cribs and granaries, but after using my pencil, decided against it. The problem:

	Boulders	50,000 bu. corn at $1.50	4,500	3,000 bu. wheat at $2.20	6,600
Tangible property			$17,100
50 per cent assessment law			8,550
With the mill levy 31, the tax would be			$ 263

I think a five mill levy on grain produced will bring in more tax dollars, as it would be on 10 times more grain, and keep the grain on the farm where it belongs.

CURTIS S. REED

Social Security

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: What is being overlooked in discussing the social security act is that the measure was fashioned for conditions prevailing in 1937 and not for those today. The retirement provision was adequate then, but today it provides only a substandard living. That is why two million individuals are refused to retire at the said age.

Now we have been told that the administration has a measure not basically different from the present act, other than that it would provide greater coverage. That being the case, the injustice would continue.

There is the cry that the Curtis bill would bring under social security non-contributors to its fund. When the Railway Retirement Act went into effect, it covered all those who had retired before the act became a law and who hadn't contributed, and it didn't endanger that fund, did it?

CECIL E. MATTHEWS

His should not be a world of communist dictators —of chicanery and sin them: "Blessed are ye when men hate you and persecute you and revile you," and He will find Himself without a friend in the world, an outcast on a hill, with mobs shouting for His death and His flesh hanging from Him like purple rags.

Beatitudes Not Ideals

The Beatitudes cannot be taken alone; they are not ideals; they are hard facts and realities, inseparable from the Cross of Calvary. Many men go on repeating them, but very few of us are willing to live them! It is easy to be a Communist, all one has to do is hate; it is easy to be self-expressive, all one has to do is avoid repressing the id; it is easy to be a liberal, all one has to do is espouse no cause as sacred, except the right to be free from discipline and the Eternal Law of God; it is easy to be a social reformer, and to take care of other people's consciences; it is easy to be a milk and water Christian who quotes the Sermon on the Mount, and forgets the Christ Who died for it. It is easy to be an intellectual and to sneer at the humble. It is easy to love those who love us, but it is hard to love those who hate us, to pluck out one's eyes and cut off one's arms to prevent sinning.

The Goal

It is hard to be clean on the inside when the passions clamor for satisfaction on the outside; to forgive those who would put us to death; to overcome evil with good; to bless those who curse us, to stop mouthing freedom until we have justice, truth and love of God in our hearts as the condition of freedom; to live in the world and still keep oneself unpolluted from the world; to deny ourselves sometimes legitimate pleasures, like cigarettes, cocktails, movies and luxuries, in order to help missionaries feed the lepers, fill the empty rice bowls and renew hungry hearts with the grace of God; to see that all our clap-trap about the brotherhood of man is meaningless unless we all have the same God as Father! What would such men make of us who talk only of the brotherhood of man? A race of illegitimate children? To strive not to be like the rest of men, but to be perfect as the Heavenly Father is perfect—this is the only new thing in the world, but there are very few who are willing to try it. Christianity has not failed; but we have failed the Christ, who said "Take up your cross and follow Me."

Land At North Platte Reclamation Project Freed

Two Orders Cover Total Of 120 Acres

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Interior McKay Friday announced restoration to the public domain of 120 acres of Nebraska land which had been withdrawn for use on the North Platte reclamation project.

The restoration was covered in two orders by the Bureau of Land Management.

The first covers an area of 80 acres, situated in the North Platte drainage basin at an elevation of approximately 3,250 feet near Bridgeport.

The second order covers 40 acres of grazing land located approximately five miles northeast of Bayard.

The bureau said the land covered in the first order receives approximately 12 inches of precipitation annually, is rough topography and has a wide draw running east and west.

The soil is sandy and subject to blowing when cultivated or when not protected by vegetation.

The land is primarily valuable for grazing and is not suitable for crop production, the bureau said.

The topography of the 40 acres near Bayard is rolling and the soils are silty sand. Vegetative cover consists principally of blue grama and said grass and the land lies on the top and slopes of a small divide, the bureau said.

Secretary McKay said inquiries concerning these lands should be addressed to the director, Bureau of Land Management, Department of Interior, Washington. Applications will be considered on their merits, he added.

Settlement Okayed

Nebraska Seeks Civil Defense Office Location

Use Of G.I. Hospital Is Studied

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

Harold Aitken, assistant director of the Office of Civilian Defense, Friday confirmed from Washington that a Nebraska proposal had been placed on file offering a site for the relocation of national OCD headquarters.

But he added that it had not yet received study nor would until it was determined whether OCD should accept the prior offer of a site at Indian Gap, Pa.

"Negotiations for the Pennsylvania site," he said, have progressed to the point that until a decision has been made nothing will be done with later proposals.

Aitken spoke in the absence of OCD Director Val Peterson, former Nebraska governor, who is currently out of Washington on a two weeks mission.

"We have a proposal from Michigan, two from Iowa, one from Colorado plus Nebraska's. And it has also been suggested that the headquarters be moved into Maryland where OCD presently has its staff college," Aitken said.

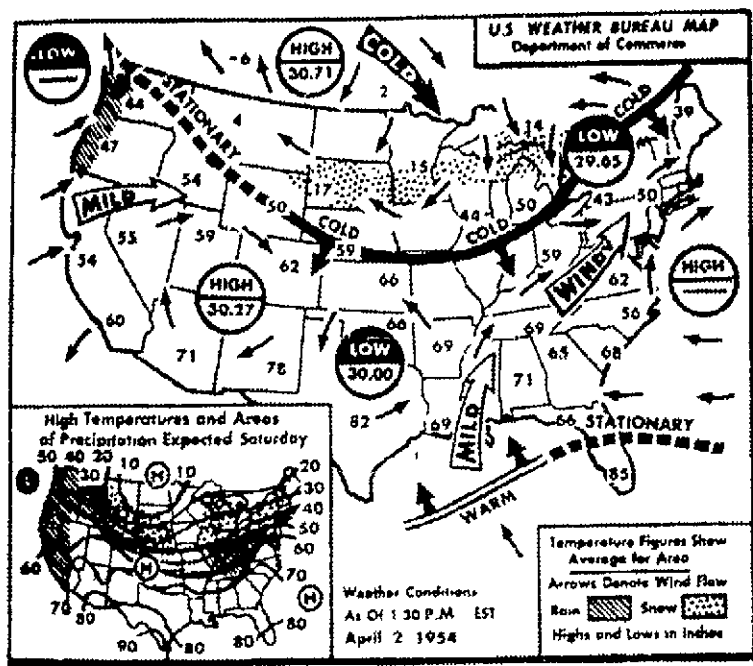

Nebraska's efforts to win OCD approval became public when the question was raised by a canvass of the executive committee of the State Department of the American Legion. It sought an expression on the transfer of the Grand Island Veterans Hospital to the OCD and pointed out that patients in the partially filled hospital could be accommodated at the Lincoln and Omaha veterans hospitals.

C. V. Price, director of the Nebraska's Resources Division, revealed that of numerous locations and structures examined during the past fortnight the Grand Island hospital was thus far the only suitable, probably available structure with the necessary 90,000 square foot capacity needed by the OCD.

Aitken reserved expressions of preference, but said that Nebraska posed a problem of remoteness, pointing out that communication and transportation would be a factor in relocation.

"Our function necessarily tails closely with those of agencies in and near Washington," he said.

Aitken agreed that Peterson would be a central figure in the

Colder Weather To Make Appearance

Colder weather is due in New England and the area from the mid-Atlantic states southwest through the Ohio Valley, the mid-Mississippi Valley to the Texas Panhandle. relocation decision which he said, however, would be "hammered out to the mutual satisfaction of the entire group of related agencies."

Meantime, Nebraska boosters continued to develop the state's chances but deplored the premature breaking of the story.

"I don't know what it will do to our chances, but I am afraid it will not help them any," observed Price.

The OCD move would involve 600 families and a payroll of $3,500,000 a year.

At Grand Island William E. Dauer, Chamber of Commerce manager, said the possibility of the move had been under investigation the past two weeks. He said he had been working through the veterans organizations and had been in touch with federal government sources in Washington.

At Washington an aide for Sen. Dwight Griswold said, "There have been suggestions made that a satisfactory site might be found in Nebraska. We are in the process of exploring that possibility."

Griswold said he would discuss the matter with Peterson upon the latter's return to Washington.

Jailbreakers, Woman Held At Fremont

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Two Kansas jailbreakers travelling under fictitious names and a woman accused of being their accomplice were held here for Kansas authorities after a shooting scrape brought about their arrest.

They were still carrying the keys to the Butler County, Kan., jail.

Officers said the three were arrested after they got into an argument outside a Hooper, Neb., cafe. The two men were wounded in a struggle over a gun.

Dodge County Attorney Forrest A. Johnson said the two men have admitted they are William G. Brewer, 23, Oberlin, Kan., and Clyde E. Laws, 26, Crocker, Mo., wanted at El Dorado, Kan., for a March 25 jailbreak. Their woman companion was Annetta B. Leitner, 21.

Johnson said in addition to a forged charge against Laws and a bogus check charge against Brewer, on file at the time of their escape, County Attorney Morris Moon of El Dorado told him the two men now are charged with jailbreak, grand larceny, and assault with a deadly weapon, and the woman with aiding a jail break and with smuggling a gun and hack saw to the two men.

Johnson said the three probably would not be charged in Nebraska but would be turned over to Kansas authorities.

Johnson and Sheriff Pelham McGee, said Brewer was shot in the finger and Laws in the leg.

Lincolnite Gets Back Pin Lost 25 Years Ago

SEWARD, Neb. — The combined detective work of a Seward newspaper and the University of Nebraska Alumni office has resulted in the return of a fraternity pin lost 25 years ago.

The story started in 1929 when Lyle A. Welch, a University student, gave his Phi Mu Alpha music fraternity pin to Gretchen Cook of Arlington as a symbol of their engagement. Miss Cook lost the pin when they were visiting Andy J. Welch, a Milford resident, who was staying in Seward.

The years passed and Miss Cook became Mrs. Welch. Her husband is now instructor in band and instruments at Lincoln High School. But the pin was never found.

Recently a Seward beauty shop operator, Miss George Landon Jr., found a pin inscribed "L. A. W. 2-21-29" in an overstuffed chair given to them by relatives. She turned the bit of jewelry over to the Seward Independent.

Mrs. Paul Stryson of Seward identified the pin. The Alumni office was contacted and search of files showed that Lyle A. Welch was a member of Phi Mu Alpha in 1929.

The pin has now returned to its rightful owners.

Half-Century Dream Of Sargent Project Near Reality

17,000-Acre Irrigation Is Planned

Lincoln Star Special
SARGENT, Neb. — A goal toward which residents of the Middle Loup Valley have been working for more than half a century appears at last to be nearing realization.

Cyril Shaugnessy of St. Paul, attorney for the Middle Loup Reclamation District, said Friday that people in the area are "elated" over the announcement that President Eisenhower has asked that the Sargent Irrigation Project be approved for initial construction funds.

The President requested $1,000,000 for the Sargent Unit in a message to the House Appropriations Committee. Paul L. Harley, area engineer for the Bureau of Reclamation in Grand Island, said "substantial agreement" has been reached between the Sargent Irrigation District and the bureau relative to a repayment contract for the share of the unit cost which the district would ultimately have to bear.

The Sargent project would ultimately provide irrigation water for some 17,000 acres in Custer and Valley Counties, with a small amount of development extending into Sherman County. It would involve construction of an earth-and-concrete diversion dam over the Middle Loup near Milburn, Neb.

North Side First
Water thus diverted would flow over the north side of the valley through a system of some 40 miles. The initial construction would provide water to the north side of the stream and irrigate nearly 14,000 acres there. Later work may include extension of development on the south side of the river where an additional 4,000 acres could be watered.

In addition to the Milburn dam, a number of small detention structures are planned to help regulate water for the diversion. The completed Sargent project would cost more than $10,000,000, with the first year cost running about $1,000,000.

Officials of the irrigation district asked the Senate Appropriations Committee for $1,027,000 to begin building the diversion dam and water distribution system. George Semler of Sargent is president of the district, and Marvin Price of Milburn and Steve Smith of Sargent are directors.

Homemakers Name New Officers

Tekamah Woman Elected Head Of Nebraska's Homemakers

Mrs. Elmer Erickson of Tekamah is the new president of the Nebraska Homemakers. She was elected during the group's annual meeting in Lincoln Friday at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture which attracted a record crowd.

Other officers are Mrs. Marion Sisco of Otoe, vice president, and Miss Agnes Arthaud of Lincoln, secretary-treasurer.

Highlight of the afternoon program was a style show given by home economics students. Mrs. Haven Smith, homemaker from Chappell, spoke on "Adventure Into Tomorrow." She impressed upon the women the important part they play in molding the leaders in the world. Mrs. Smith contrasted the integrity of modern homemaker to pioneer mothers.

The women were welcomed to the campus by Dean W. V. Lambert at the opening afternoon session. The Homemakers' Day is one of the year's highlight activities for women held on the Agricultural College campus.

Hear Dr. Schlaphoff
"Home Economics at the University of Nebraska" was discussed by Chairman of the Home Economics Department, Dr. Dorinda Schlaphoff. She called to the attention of the women that 19 Nebraska counties have no students majoring in home economics at the University. She urged the women to promote recruitment of young women within their own counties.

At the close of the day's program women toured the campus. The tours included visits to the nutrition laboratories of Dr. Ruth Leveton, the home economics design lab, the new meats laboratory, the child development laboratory, and the new agronomy building on the Agricultural College campus.

Murlin R. Hodgell, research architect from the University of Illinois spoke to the homemakers on trends in "Today's House."

He told the women that a house is a thing you have to live with the rest of your life. It is therefore important to have good advice from proper authority in planning a new home or remodeling.

Another speaker was Alfredo Garces, a University student from the Philippines. She spoke to the group on life in the Philippines. Miss Garces also had on display several articles of clothing and jewelry that are worn by Filipino women.

Senator Martin Seeks Re-election
GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — State Sen. Joseph D. Martin, Grand Island, who was the youngest State Senator in the last session of the Legislature, filed Friday for re-election from the 30th District.

Martin, a Grand Island attorney, was elected two years ago at the age of 27 upon his graduation from the University of Nebraska law school.

So far he is the only candidate to file in the 30th District which includes Hall and Merrick Counties.

Martin's state senate filing, he said, cleared the air of reports that he was considering the First District Congressional vacancy as a Democratic candidate.

—Lincoln Banks—
Deposits Up;
No 'Slump'
Signs Seen
Financiers Report Business Keel Even
By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

An increase in total deposits, loans and assets for the six Lincoln banks at the end of the first quarter of 1954 as compared to the same time last year shows, according to bankers, that if there is a slump in business it has not been reflected in bank activity.

On the contrary, Lincoln bankers maintain that business is continuing on an even keel or even increasing. A slight drop in deposits and assets as compared to Dec. 31, 1953, was described as the usual "seasonal" slump coming from a lack of farm income at this time of year and the payment of income taxes.

It was generally agreed that business looked good and there is no reason to look for any decline. One banker felt the increase in deposits over a year ago was the result of decreased retail buying but was no cause for alarm.

Totals from all six banks show deposits of $141,551,684.64 for March 31, 1954; $152,320,168.67 for Dec. 31, 1953, and $138,936,845.32 for March 31, 1953. Total loans were $40,824,615.99 for March 31, 1954; $37,679,459.88 for Dec. 31, 1953, and $40,282,714.37 for March 31, 1953.

Total assets were $153,378,405.13 for March 31, 1954; $161,870,618.39 for Dec. 31, 1953, and $148,114,589.28 for March 31, 1953.

Deans Attend Meeting

Included among the 600 women educators attending the 34th annual convention of the National Association of Deans of Women, April 2 to 5, at the Statler Hotel in Washington, D.C., are Miss Marjorie Johnson, dean of women at the University of Nebraska; Miss Helen Snyder, assistant dean of women at the University of Nebraska; and Miss Ethel Johnson, dean of women at Nebraska Wesleyan University. Miss Margaret Johnson, who is in charge of the north central area for the organization, will participate as an active member of the regional contact committee, and Miss Ethel M. Johnson will be a participant in a panel discussion on "Women in Junior College Work," which will form one of a series of 13 workshop groups. The convention will study the educational needs of the modern woman to determine whether they are being met by the nation's schools, and also will consider the occupational opportunities for women in 1954.

Has Church Wedding

At a double ring ceremony which was solemnized Sunday evening, March 21, Miss Charlene Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Weber, became the bride of Paul Huber, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huber, all of Friend. Lighted white candles and arrangements of white and yellow snapdragons decorated the chancel of the Friend Methodist Church for the service, which was read by the Rev. Otto Qualife in the presence of 400 guests.

The wedding music was played by Miss Barbara Yokel, organist, who also accompanied Maynard Yost of Lincoln, as he sang "Wonderful One," "At Dawning," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The attendants, who were alike frocks of net over taffeta in spring tones of yellow, green, and orchid, were Miss Erna Huber of Friend, the maid of honor; Miss Sylvia Johnson of Exeter and Miss Carolyn Rohrig of Friend, bridesmaids; Miss Gail Eich of Strang, the flower girl, and Miss Joleen Griess of Sutton and Miss Deloris Weber of Friend, who carried the candles. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow jonquils.

Johnnie Huber of Friend served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Dean Weber, Gene Easley and Keith Clouse of Friend, and Stanley Schweitzer of Milford. Tommy Coates of Lincoln was ringbearer.

White imported lace and nylon tulle fashioned the bride's period gown. A tiny collar and long, fitted sleeves accented the molded lace bodice, and the lace extended beneath the waist to trim the full tulle skirt, which ended in a train. Her illusion veil was held by a cap of lace and seed pearls, and she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible ornamented with a lavender orchid.

A reception was held in the church parlors. For their short wedding trip, after which the couple will live in Friend, Mrs. Huber wore an aqua wool suit with brown accessories.

WISHING DOES IT

WISHFUL, thinking always pays off in the long run—Kept on wishing we had some nice interesting news for this year—and what happens? We have some nice interesting news this year.

A bon voyage to Mrs. Helene Foe gave us a big lift—or maybe our terminology is wrong—perhaps we should say "happy landing", since Mrs. Foe took off by plane Friday afternoon for Madrid, Spain. After loitering in Madrid for quite some time, the traveler will go to North Africa where she will spend a week or two—perhaps more—before going to Seville—and later back to Madrid—and eventually back to the States and home.

SPEAKING OF TRAVELERS—It seems that we told only half the story yesterday when we mentioned Mrs. Willard Folsom's homecoming from Mexico—We learned that with Mrs. Folsom in Mexico, and also returning home on Wednesday evening was Mrs. Lester M. Buckley.

Paper Plus Pins=Hats Garden Club

Feathers and veils, crepe paper roses and forget-me-nots, all for my lady's Easter chapeau—brought out a talent for bonnet-making in each member of the Opti-Mrs. Club when the group met for luncheon and election of officers Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl J. Holmstadter.

New officers of the club, pictured as they modeled their own spring "creations" are seated, Mrs. James B. Ewing (at left), president; Mrs. Clarence Franz (at right), outgoing president; and standing, from the left, Mrs. George Fenger, treasurer; Mrs. Chris Beck, secretary; and Mrs. D. E. Meyer, vice president.

Hats' heads decked with the newest spring hat fashions formed the decorations for the luncheon table, and chairman of the entertainment committee was Mrs. Elmer Shields. Members who modeled turn-of-the-century fashions, all of them collector's items, were Mrs. Earl Brooks, Mrs. F. B. No-dell, Mrs. Fred Iverson, Mrs. M. C. Wieland, Mrs. Clarence Franz, Mrs. C. B. Remington and Mrs. John Sheaff.

We Hear That--

Miss Carol Jean Borner and her sister, Miss Margaret Ann Borner, will leave next Friday for California where they will spend their Easter holiday with their grandmother, Mrs. Arnold Borner, and their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Borner and their three children, Georgia, Roberta, and Jackie, in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Maceman, 1811 So. 43rd, are the parents of a son, Clark Henry, who was born on Friday, April 2, at Bryan Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Maceman, the former Martha Ann High, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur High of Bertrand, and a graduate of Bryan Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maceman of Avoca.

Mrs. Mildred Ostler and Miss Mildred Ekblad, both of the Lincoln city library staff, have returned from a two weeks trip in the south. Among the many interesting places visited were New Orleans, La., Biloxi, Miss., and Mobile, Ala.

JUST this moment heard that Mr. and Mrs. William R. Mowbray of Long Beach, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, are in town for a month's stay. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Mowbray to Lincoln was Mrs. Charles Herd, also of Long Beach. For their stay in town the Mowbrays have taken an apartment at 1626 D street.

And someone told us that Mr. and Mrs. Victor Toft would be down from Omaha on Sunday—and that they would be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Henderson for lunch at the Lincoln Country club.

SPORTS clothes and cottons are the order of the evening on Saturday when the members of the Terpsichorean club have their spring festival dinner dance at the Lincoln hotel.

In charge of the party arrangements is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Dan S. Jones Jr., Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Reinecke, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Schreff, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Trabert and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kelges.

Guest couples at the dinner dance will include Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Karnes of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mace, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Vandemoer.

This morning we want to introduce Mr. and Mrs. John A. Johnson who arrived just last Saturday from their old home in Bevidere, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson chose to move to Lincoln for two reasons—first, and certainly the paramount one—is the fact that they have a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Johnson, who reside here. The second reason, is climate.

Just as soon as Mr. Johnson recovers sufficiently from a severe attack of bursitis, he plans to open a tailoring shop—and that means, of course, that the Johnsons will be permanent residents. They left three married daughters back in Illinois.

From Manhattan, Kan., just a few days ago came Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Anderson and their three children, Betty Jean, who is nine years old; Bobby, three, and young Kathy, just eight months.

Mrs. Mechling Is Honored

Members of the Lincoln Woman's Club board of directors entertained at luncheon Friday afternoon at the University Club honoring Mrs. George Mechling, who is going out of office after serving as president of the club for the last two years.

Included among the guests were Mrs. Mechling's mother, Mrs. Cora Wright, Mrs. Rosa Mechling, and members of the 1952-53 board of directors.

Washington Assignment

Marine officer, Lt. Walter W. Barr, who has just returned from 10 months in Korea and four months in Japan, where he served with the 1st Marine Air Wing, will leave later this month for his new assignment in Washington D.C.

Joining the lieutenant in Washington at the close of the school year will be Mrs. Barr and their six-and-a-half-year-old son, Gary, who now is in first grade at Randolph school.

During their stay in Lincoln the Barrs are the guests of Mrs. Barr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Findlay.

Included among the 250

girls in the state who will attend the conference will be the following Lincoln Scouts: Harriet Strickland, Janet Heckman, Sandra Santer, Jane Rogers, Meredith Weatherhogg, Mary Jo Wehr, Mary Kelly, Phyllis Powers, Mary Lewis, Sarah Jones, Alverta Strickland, Sarah Colby, Catherine Hall, Jackie Beard, Sharon Ellsworth, Marlene Barrett, Susan Morgan, Judy Wilson, Elizabeth Platte, Mary Jane Fahrbruch and Sharon McConkle.

Adults who will accompany the girls will be Mrs. Henry Strickland, Mrs. Don Heckman, Mrs. E. G. Jones, Mrs. David Platte and Miss Clara Hack.

THE STAR WELCOMES:

To Mr. Anderson Nebraska is not strange territory. He is a native of Aurora, but was graduated from Kansas State college at Manhattan. Mrs. Anderson, however, calls Little Rock, Ark., her home town.

Pi Beta Phi alumnae will be happy to learn they may have a new member—Mrs. Robert D. Conroy, Jr., the former Marjorie Canaday, who with Mr. Conroy and their four small fry, Michael, Nancy, Dennis and Kathleen, have come from Omaha—via Beatrice—to reside in Lincoln. Mrs. Conroy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Canaday of Lincoln.

Mr. Conroy is an alumnus of Omaha university.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Pearson, who have just arrived from Scottsbluff, probably won't reside in Lincoln forever and ever—they do plan to be here at least 18 months while Mr. Pearson works in the home office of his insurance company.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson have one daughter, Donna Rae, who will be celebrating her seventh birthday in June.

The members of Deborah Avery Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, elected six new officers and two advisory council members Friday afternoon following their annual spring luncheon at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Chapter officers whose terms do not expire until 1955 are Mrs. S. W. Miller, registrar; Mrs. Gerald Carpenter, corresponding secretary; Miss Lulu Abbott, custodian; and Mrs. Clifford Schreff, historian.

Following reports on the annual state conference held at Omaha, a program was presented by members of the University of Nebraska Masquers drama club. The program was under the direction of the junior members with Mrs. Theo Deal as chairman.

Army Rejects Pvt. Schine As Provost School Student

Ex-McCarthy Aid Is Ruled Not Qualified

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army said that Pvt. G. David Schine, a central figure in the controversy between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Army officials, has had too little experience to qualify as a military police criminal investigator.

The Army announcement said that Schine, a former non-salaried consultant to McCarthy's Senate investigations Subcommittee, would not be permitted to enroll in the advanced criminal investigation course of the Provost Marshal's School at Camp Gordon, Ga.

The provost marshal, Gen. William H. Maglin, denied published reports two weeks ago that the Army had waived the normal military service requirements to permit Schine to jump from basic training to the advanced course.

At that time Gen. Maglin said that when Schine completed his military police basic training consideration would be given his application for enrollment in the advanced course.

In his statement Friday Maglin said that Schine's length of service and rank were "not determining factors" since Schine "does not otherwise qualify for selection" as an assistant military police criminal investigator.

McCarthy, now in New York City, could not be reached for comment on the Army announcement.

Present Good Time To Practice Law, Students Are Told

Past president of the Nebraska Bar Association George DeLacy of Omaha told more than 125 law students and lawyers that now is the most favorable time to practice law.

He spoke at the annual Law College honors banquet at the Cornhusker Hotel.

DeLacy said court procedures nowadays are simpler, cases are more interesting and the practice is more lucrative.

"Law offices are constantly seeking young lawyers," he said, and "industry is establishing law departments within its own walls."

He told the law students that "you will get satisfaction out of defending the rights of the weak."

"To most people," the speaker said, "you will be counselor and guide."

11-Year-Old's Trip Proves Eventful

Eleven-year-old Elmer Stokes was back home in Lincoln after an overnight stay in Omaha which included the loss of all his money and sleeping all night in a bus waiting room.

Elmer went to Omaha to apply for a job as a golf course caddy. On his way to the course, he discovered he had lost his wallet containing about $4.

A kind-hearted cab driver gave him a free ride to a bus depot where Elmer spent the night. The following morning, a friendly Omahan put him on the bus back to Lincoln, and notified his grandmother of Elmer's whereabouts.

Elmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stokes Jr. of West Lincoln.

Meet Star Carrier Alan Yates

Alan Yates is one of the newer carriers in District 7 and is doing as well as carriers with much more experience. He has been carrying papers on Route 698 (between 60th and 70th and from Vine to Holdrege) for about three months.

A seventh grader at Northeast Junior High School, Alan lists metal work as his favorite subject. Alan likes anything that is connected with building, moulding, or just putting together.

His favorite hobby is Scouting and he devotes much time to his hobby. Although he is only 12, he is already a Star Scout and has earned his God and Country badge. Alan does quite a bit of traveling during the summer. He attends Scout camp, church camp, and on occasions, spends his summers on a farm in western Nebraska. He pays his own way to the camps he attends.

Alan also enjoys target shooting. He owns a .22 rifle and a 20 gauge shotgun.

He earns a profit of $23 each four weeks from his route. He is saving most of it and buys a lot of his own clothes. The people on Route 698 are very pleased with Alan's service—as evidenced by the number of telephone calls received complimenting his delivery and service.

Any boy wanting a Star route should contact The Lincoln Star circulation department, 926 P, Lincoln, Neb.

State Farm Price Index Sags 1 Point

The index of prices received by Nebraska farmers sagged one point in the month ending March 15.

The index now stands at 289, compared to 290 on Feb. 15.

The March, 1953 figure was 278.

Price increases registered for wheat, barley, grain sorghum, alfalfa seed, soybeans, cattle and lambs last month were more than offset by decreases in the price of oats, potatoes, hay, hogs, calves, butterfat, milk, chickens and eggs, the state-federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported.

The all-crops index was unchanged from February. The livestock and livestock products index was down a point, but the meat animals index was up three points.

The average price of wheat was $2.11, the same as in March, 1953 and two cents over the February, 1954 price.

The price received for hogs was down 70 cents to $24.70, but still the second highest March price on record.

Calves were down ten cents to $19.20, while cattle were up 70 cents to $19.10, and lambs

Piano Festival Set At Sidney

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—A piano Festival, sponsored by teachers of piano in the Sidney area, has been scheduled for the week of April 25 with Prof. Carl Mathes, head of the piano department at Notre Dame University, serving as judge.

Mathes is scheduled to present two concerts during the week and sponsors of the Festival said students taking part would present at least two other concerts. Some 250 piano students are expected to be auditioned by Prof. Mathes during the week.

Hungarians Flee Reds

GRAZ, Austria (AP)—Four Hungarians, among them two soldiers, have escaped to the British zone of Austria after travelling half across Red-ruled Hungary, police said here Friday night. British occupation authorities, presently taking care of the refugees, refused to disclose any details of the flight.

were up $2.40 per hundred to $23.10.

The dairy index was down ten points due to lower prices for butterfat and milk. The average price received by farmers for butterfat was 59 cents per pound.

Power Of Man's H-Bomb Puny Compared To Forces Of Nature

Scientists Put Blasts In Place

By ROBERT G. NIXON
WASHINGTON (INS)—The power of man when he explodes a hydrogen bomb is puny compared to the monumental forces of nature on a rampage.

This is the consensus of foremost American scientists, who cited a string of awesome facts about natural phenomena to put the new hydrogen weapon into proper perspective.

Without detracting from the almost incredible blast of the hydrogen and atomic bombs, American scientists insisted that man's progress thus far in the release of energy makes him a "piker" compared with the natural forces that produce tornadoes, hurricanes, volcanic eruptions, blizzards and even rainstorms of moderate intensity.

They gave the following as a few instances of the tremendous force of nature compared to the explosive energy of the A-bomb and H-bomb:

- Wierd Effects
1. When the volcano of Krakatoa, Java, blew up in 1883, the ashes circled the globe several times and took two years to settle to the ground. Wierd sunset effects resulted throughout the world, and in many places the sun was obscured so that day was turned into night. Some 36,000 persons were drowned in Java and Sumatra by the 100-foot tidal wave that resulted. By comparison, the ashes hurled skyward by a hydrogen atomic explosion are dissipated within a few hundred miles.
  2. Nearly 1,000 atom bombs a minute of the size of the Hiroshima bomb would have to be exploded to match the energy of a single ordinary-size hurricane.
  3. One hydrogen bomb would have to be detonated every ten seconds to equal the energy of the same hurricane force.
  4. A single rainstorm of moderate intensity releases energy at the rate of three atomic bomb explosions per second.
  5. The sun's rays on a two square mile area of ground on an average summer day equals the energy of one atomic bomb. Scientists said that this solar energy is multiplied over billions of square miles, which makes the energy of an A-bomb or H-bomb explosion a small blob of heat by comparison.
  6. The concentration of debris in an atomic bomb cloud is only one-billionth the concentration in the clouds that spread over the U. S. from the dust bowl storms of 1936.

At the same time, scientists said that careful observations and study of all atomic and hydrogen explosions since the first one at Alamogordo, N. M., in July 1945, has produced no evidence that the bombs have changed the world's weather map.

McCook May Soon Halt Parking Of Ammunition Trucks

McCOOK, Neb. — An ordinance preventing ammunition trucks from parking within the city limits is being drawn up by the McCook City Council.

The council, after accepting a 63-signature petition protesting a parking plan within the city, ordered City Attorney Stan Scott to draw up an ordinance prohibiting it.

The action resulted after Joe Trimmer, owner of a petroleum company on the east edge of town, announced that he would permit ammunition truck drivers to park their vehicles on property he owns near his business.

Residents in the area protested and presented their views through Lafayette D. Hurley, McCook attorney.

Initial Sanitary Sewer Plan OK'd; May Cost $1 Million

A joint city and Sanitary District committee has approved a general preliminary plan calling for construction of possibly $1 million in sanitary sewers to stem the growing by-pass of raw, untreated sewage into Salt Creek.

The committee voted to recommend the plan to the two parent bodies concerned and appointed a committee to study details of hiring an engineering firm to prepare detailed plans and cost estimates.

This second committee is composed of Councilman Joseph Fenton, District Board Member George Knight, City Engineer D. L. Erickson and District Engineer Walter B. Coale. The group will determine how much the detailed sewer study and report will cost and what engineering firms, particularly local ones, might be available for the job.

'Possibly $1,000,000'

In giving the joint city-District committee an outline of the sewer needs, Coale and Erickson submitted a joint report which set the cost of essential improvements "conceivable" as high as $1 million. Their conclusions and recommendations were:

1. The present Beals Slough-Salt Creek interceptor sanitary sewer is inadequate to serve present peak loads causing flooding of certain residential and industrial basements and immediate action should be taken toward construction of a larger sewer.
2. The existing trunk sewers in the Antelope and Dead Man's Run valley are almost as badly overloaded during peak flow conditions and need attention in the very near future.
3. The raw sewage from Havelock and a portion of University Place which now discharges directly into Salt Creek will probably require treatment within the next 10 years.
4. Excluding the Havelock and University Place problem, the program might conceivably cost $1 million.

5. Employment of consulting engineers to make a detailed study of sewer needs and prepare plans and specifications for the work.

6. A definite understanding between the city and district as to the responsibility of the two agencies toward the construction, operation and maintenance of all the trunk sewers in the system.

Past 30 Years

In viewing the large expenditure that will be needed, Erickson noted that practically no trunk line sewer work has been done in the past 30 years. Such a program as tentatively outlined in the report, said Erickson, would take care of the city's needs for the next 20 to 25 years.

Coale had earlier estimated that from 1 to 3 million gallons of raw sewage is dumped daily into Salt Creek because of overloaded trunk lines. This is in addition, he said, to the sewage from Havelock and University Place.

The joint report contained a letter from the City-County Health Department in which the District was urged to take action to prevent the dumping of raw sewage into Salt Creek at Van Dorn. This is sewage from the State Hospital which cannot be handled by the inadequate trunk line which now skirts the west edge of the city.

More Than Agricultural Achievement Seen In Youth's Star Farmer Prize

Special honors which came to a tall, 18-year-old Harrison, Neb. boy at the Future Farmers of America convention this week were a recognition of more than agricultural achievement.

The State Star Farmer Award, which was presented to Charles Lewis, was also a recognition of courage and determination in overcoming sudden handicap. Lewis took the top state FFA honor for his record in running 43 head of stock on a ranch and building up a $6,530 investment in the ranching operation.

Many youths have taken the coveted title for the excellence of their farming operations, but Lewis holds a special place in this list of winners. Less than a year and a half ago, young Lewis was stricken with polio which attacked the muscles in his back and left leg. The attack came shortly after his older brother Tommy, had died of bulbar polio.

Charles spent weeks in a Denver hospital and then returned to school and to his father's ranch. With the help of twice-a-day hot baths and special exercises, he resumed his school work and made up his past lessons. Even with this interruption, he maintained a high school grade average of 89.5.

Recalling his return to ranching projects in FFA work, young Lewis said, "It was a little bad for a while." Slowly, he built up the use of his leg, although "my back would bother me if I worked too hard." Even after months of exercise and treatment his leg is still paralyzed from the knee down.

His ranching projects include work with both dairy and beef animals. In ranch betterment projects, Charles built and remodeled buildings, helped install a water reservoir and septic tank, installed water pipes for corrals and barns, and organized a ranch library. He is pretty decided about his plans for the future. "I'm just going to stick to the ranch," he said.

Army Denies 'Coddling' Of Athletes And Entertainers

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Army denied Friday that it "coddles" athletes or other celebrities in uniform but said it assigns soldiers with special talents to duty in which their ability can best be utilized.

The denial was prompted by the demand of Rep. William E. Hess (R) Ohio, chairman of an armed services subcommittee, for a report answering what the congressman called complaints that "preferential treatment" had been accorded certain singers and ball players.

Hess said the complaints were received partly as a result of the controversy involving Pvt. G. David Schine, a drafted former aide to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy. McCarthy's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, was accused by Army officials of threatening to "wreck" the service unless Schine got special favors. A Senate hearing on the accusation, and countercharges by McCarthy and Cohn, is slated to start April 12.

Hess said he had not yet received the Army report he requested, but a Pentagon spokesman pointed out that a directive issued last October specified that "name" athletes will not be given preferential treatment solely because of athletic ability.

The Army official also cited such luminaries as Eddie Fischer and Vic Damone, famed crooners now back in civilian life after hitchhikes in uniform.

The spokesman said: "A definite policy applies to both athletes and entertainers. No man can be assigned to special activities until he completes basic training.

The Army official said that "numerous" complaints had been received from parents protesting that their sons are given kitchen police and other arduous duties while athletes and singers escape such chores.

But he insisted that no drafted celebrity is permitted to sidestep his specific military job in order to have time to play ball.

Simmons, Ridzik Pounded In 8-0 Boston Win

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox jumped on Philadelphia Phillies' pitchers Curt Simmons and Steve Ridzik in the last three innings for all their runs to defeat the Phils for the third time this spring training season, 8-0. The Phils have yet to beat the Sox in 1954.

The big hit of Boston's seven-hit attack was Catcher Mickey Owen's grand-slam home run in the eighth inning with two out. Ridzik was pitching at the time.

Mel Parnell went eight innings for the American Leaguers; Tom Brewer finished out. The Phils had five hits.

In the seventh, with Simmons pitching, an error by Second Baseman Gran Hamner, a walk, and Parnell's double broke the scoreless tie. The runs were the Sox' first in 25 innings.

In the eighth, Carl Olson and Jackie Jensen singled, Dick Gernert walked, but Olson was trapped between third and home on an infield grounder and tagged out. He was the second out of the inning. Owen followed with his home run.

Chicago Beats Cards

NEW ORLEANS, (AP) — Excellent pitching by ace Billy Pierce and a home run by Shortstop Chico Carrasquel featured a 3-1 exhibition baseball victory by the Chicago White Sox over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pierce gave up six scattered hits and only one run in seven innings. Harry Dorish finished up with neatness, allowing only one hit and no runs the last two innings.

William Heffelfinger, Called Greatest Lineman, Dies At 86

BLESSING, Tex. (AP) — William Walter (Pudge) Heffelfinger, Yale All-America football player of the 1880s, died at his home here Friday. He was 86.

Heffelfinger, once termed football's greatest lineman, made his final public appearance last December, when he received the football Hall of Fame award from the New York Touchdown Club.

Braves Retain Tax Savings

MILWAUKEE, (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves announced Friday they will not make tax refunds on the more than 1,000,000 tickets already sold for the 1954 baseball season.

"It would be a physical impossibility to make refunds," said Joseph Cairnes, executive vice-president of the club. "Our advance sale has been so heavy that to attempt to return the 10 per cent tax refund would be overwhelming."

A Federal excise tax cut from 20 to 10 per cent, which became effective Thursday, provides that a baseball club may make refunds if it desires but if not the money must go to the federal government.

Cairnes said that tickets sold in the future would reflect the tax drop. The Braves' new price scale sets bleacher seats at 75 cents, down from 80 cents; general admission $1.15, down from $1.25; reserved grandstand $1.70 down from $1.85; boxes $2.30, down from $2.50, and mezzanine boxes $3.30, down from $3.60.

Cards Press Radio Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals asked the Federal Communications Commission to reconsider a case which baseball clubs alleged involved the "piracy" by a radio company of play-by-play accounts of games.

The Cardinals and the New York Yankees complained that the Trinity Broadcasting Co., with stations in El Paso and other Texas cities, broadcast descriptions of big-league baseball games in such a way the listener had the impression he was hearing a play-by-play account. They said the broadcasts were unauthorized and destroyed the broadcast rights of the clubs.

The broadcasting company told the commission it plainly labeled the broadcasts as "recreated" programs and not "live" eye-witness accounts of the games.

The commission recently renewed a radio license for the company and announced the stations appeared to have used reasonable care in labeling the broadcasts as re-creations.

The petition filed asking reconsideration of the opinion was submitted by the Cardinals alone.
